ABOUT THE NACT

A Member-Driven Organization

The NACT is the ONLY professional, member-driven organization in the US dedicated exclusively to the corporate treasurer. Our goal is to develop programs enabling our members to meet and exchange ideas directly with their peers. As reflected by our Board member affiliations, the NACT represents a broad range of corporate USA. Our membership consists of organizations with good size, geographic and industry diversification. Our motto is 'Treasurers Talking to Treasurers' and we enhance the exchange of best practices in treasury through peer networking, conferences, advocacy, regional meeting, webinars, and telediscussions.

We are run in partnership with the Association of Corporate Treasurers (ACT), the global professional membership organization for treasurers, and our members gain additional benefits from access to their events, networking, professional qualifications, publications, career support resources and technical expertise.

PURPOSE

The purpose of the NACT is to maintain a professional association of individuals responsible for the management of corporate treasury. The NACT's operations include collecting, publishing and disseminating materials and information relevant to the management of treasury operations, conducting and sponsoring meetings and seminars, and promoting educational activities - including access to favorable rates for the ACT's broad suite of professional treasury qualifications and training courses.

MISSION

As a member-driven organization, the NACT facilitates dialogue between corporate treasurers and their colleagues, opening valuable connections and introducing new approaches and better solutions. Through focused, relevant programs and activities, NACT members share ideas on a wide spectrum of corporate finance matters, including: corporate banking relationships, capital markets, investment opportunities, retirement plans and benefits, risk management, insurance, large, medium and small company issues, international challenges and many more.

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

Networking

Since the organization's inception, our motto, 'Treasurers Talking to Treasurers' remains the cornerstone of the NACT. As a member of the NACT you have access to one of the most extensive resource networks available i.e. OTHER corporate treasurers who are managing the same issues that you are facing within your company. By bringing together experts and practitioners, the NACT facilitates candid and confidential forums in which our members are able to discuss and exchange ideas.

Continuing Education

NACT's National Treasurers Conference features prominent speakers and educational sessions designed to help treasurers respond to and be effective agents of change in corporations like yours. The agenda includes keynote sessions, panel discussions, and our popular open forum discussion.

Recent topics have included:

- transitions away from USD LIBOR
- optimizing treasury management systems
- the importance of ESG rankings and ratings
- risk management
- retirement plans
- global regulatory changes.

The NACT also participates in the annual Global Trade Review trade and supply chain financing conference and hosts a Regional Meeting every year.

Advocacy

NACT officers have been active in representing treasurers before law makers and regulators to advocate for sensible financial regulations that do not unduly burden our member companies' operations. Among the areas of greatest effort are regulations over derivatives, money market funds and bond issuances potentially affected by the Volcker Rule. We have given testimony at several Congressional hearings and met with commissioners of the SEC and CFTC along with officials of the Department of the Treasury and the Federal Reserve.

Telediscussions and Webinars

In the spirit of our Treasurers Talking to Treasurers mission, frequent telediscussions and webinars provide NACT members with the opportunity to discuss current, relevant topics with other treasurers and subject matter experts without leaving their desk.

MORE BENEFITS

Career Enhancement

With a host of opportunities for ongoing education and networking, the NACT serves as a comprehensive resource for corporate treasury professionals, who need to be up-to-date on today's issues and anticipate tomorrow's trends.

All NACT members are eligible to become eAffiliates of the Association of Corporate Treasurers (ACT) free of charge. Through this you can access the ACT's online resources and expertise, including our technical updates and briefing notes, The Treasurer magazine online, and a wealth of business and behavioral skills resources including the Career Hub and mentoring scheme.

Members also benefit from a 10% discount on ACT treasury and cash management qualifications. Progress your career, or the careers of your team, with these internationally recognized, highly practical qualifications that are increasingly relevant to the changing needs of treasury, risk and corporate finance professionals.

NACT Membership Directory

The online membership directory is a networking tool that gives members access to the names of colleagues so that they may communicate with them – treasurer to treasurer. The directory is available online in a searchable format and includes listings of members sorted by name, corporate affiliation, industry, location and more.

Website

The NACT website (www.nact.org) is designed to keep members informed of the latest events and activities of the association. Online you will find a listing of upcoming meetings, including city and regional events, links to our sponsors' websites, and relevant articles of interest to our membership. In the Members Only section of the website, you are able to view presentations from meetings and telediscussions, and utilize the searchable membership directory.
